

Johnny Jenkins

Journalist & Radio Presenter

ABOUT ME

I am a qualified and experienced journalist, having worked in broadcast newsrooms since the age of 14.

At LBC, I work with some of the nation's best radio presenters. I have worked on every programme across the schedule, demonstrating my versatility. Employed as soon as I finished university, I have pursued this career for many years.

I am a trusted voice across the national radio and television network, regularly reviewing the newspapers on BBC Radio 5 Live and contributing on other stations.

In my current role at Gateway 97.8, I oversee 100 on-air interviews every month. I present and report live on fast-paced news shows.
